State Teachers Travel in Planes To Reach Classes

Last semester teachers from State made weekly trips by commercial airlines to reach their extension classes in Shasta County. Several faculty members flew 239 miles aboard planes of the Southwest Airways, and in an hour and twenty minutes they were in Redding, in time to hold their evening classes.

Twelve California counties are now covered by the In-Service (Extension) Division and over 50 courses are offered on the program. Through its extension division, State meets the needs of people who work during the day.

When the last regular student has gone home and the janitors are busy cleaning halls and classrooms, State's halls re-echo with the sound of adult footsteps as business men and women and returning teachers resume their studies. The staff of the extension division comprpises the same capable instructors as does the regular school in the day time.

BENES TEACHES

Men like Bohus Benes, former head of the Czech consul here, round out the teaching staff. Mr. Benes, who is the nephew of the late Edward Benes, teaches a course in modern European government.

It has taken State only three years to increase its extension enrollment from 300 to an anticipated enrollment of 3500 this year. The extension campus now extends from Red Bluff in the north to Modesto in the south. The future promises even greater coverage.

PLAN EXPANSION

Future plans for the extension division include expansion into several fields, including courses in business, creative arts and television. Dr. J. Fenton McKenna, professor of speech and drama, plans to develop a community playhouse and an evening school of drama in the extension division.

Raymond Doyle, instructor in radio, has scheduled more courses in radio and television for people who want to enter the broadcasting profession.

The extension division already has a thoroughly integrated program that enables many busy people to attend school and receive the advantages of a liberal education in a progressive college.

Vets Enrollment Hits New High

Total enrollment of 3718 students, including a record enrollment of 1386 veterans, was announced this week by Dr. Reginald Bell, dean of student personnel and guidance.

Of the total figure, 1998 are regular students and 334 limited students.

The previous high for veterans was the 1948 Spring semester total of 1206, Dr. Bell added. During the Fall semester an all-time registration record of 4272 students was reached.

Program Changes Made Till Friday

Next Friday, February 25, is the last day to make program changes. This includes adding classes and dropping classes. After this date all program changes must be made by special petition to the Deans' Committee.

Leonard Interviews Possible Faculty Candidates in East

President J. Paul Leonard left Saturday for the East, where he will appear on national education programs in New York City and St. Louis. He will also interview candidates for possible faculty appointment to the college for the 1949-50 academic year.

Dr. Leonard led one of the main discussion groups of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development of the National Educational Association, which convened in New York City last Monday and Tuesday.

Monday he also acted as toastmaster at the Columbia University Alumni Dinner at the Commodore Hotel. The main speaker was General Dwight Eisenhower.

President Leonard will then speak twice before the American Association of Colleges for Education in St. Louis, Thursday and Saturday, addressing the annual meeting on "The Education of Prospective Teachers."

Additional faculty interviews will also be held in Washington, D. C., and Chicago.

Profs' Wives See 'New Look' Show

A faculty wives' fashion show-tea will be held in Frederic Burk Auditorium this afternoon from 2 to 4:30.

All proceeds will go to the Student Loan Fund.

Wearing apparel will be furnished by Joseph Magnin. The models will be State students.

Entertainment will be provided by the Creative Arts Department. Vocal solos will be offered by Gregg O'Berry, Carole Geiswat and Byron Jones. Instrumental music will also be furnished under the direction of Ed Kruth.

Tickets for the event may be obtained in the office of Dean Ward.

Picnic Set Monday For Kappa Thetas

Traditional Kappa Theta picnic is slated for Monday evening, 7-11, at Sigmund Stern Grove, according to Carol Murphy, president of the organization.

Admission, which will cover refreshments and dancing, is 50 cents plus a student body card, or 75 cents without a card.

The event is in the form of an official welcome to the freshman class from Kappa Theta members, Miss Murphy stated.

Deadline Today For Health Exams

There will be no more health examination appointments after today, stated Dr. Evelyn Ballard, State's physician.

All students delinquent in health examination will be required to go to their private physician.

Late registrants will be received by the Medical Department for health examinations.

Dance Tonight in Gym

'Hit Books Now,' Says Cornehlsen

"The time to get down to business is now," advises Dr. John H. Cornehlsen, dean of men.

"Do your planning and working now," he said. "Don't go along in a fog for the first couple of months, hoping to catch up and come out all right. Now is the time to get down to business, not at mid-term when you may find it will be too late to catch up."

Dr. Cornehlsen would like any men who have heavy school loads plus heavy outside work schedules, and who find themselves wondering if they are going to be able to carry the load, to come and talk to him.

The dean would also like to see those men who are on the probation list (grade points below attempted units).

Tambola Tickets On Sale in Annex

In addition to their regular duties, Symphony Forum representatives are selling tambola tickets for the San Francisco Symphony Contingency Fund, according to Bob Greenwood, publicity chairman of the campus chapter.

Ducats for the "Tambola" are available for $1 each. They are being sold in lieu of donations to the symphony fund. Prizes include a 1949 Mercury sport sedan, a television set, and a mink coat, Greenwood said.

As a climax to the drive, a Tambola Festival Concert will be held March 22 in the Civic Auditorium.

Tickets may be obtained in the Music Federation office, Annex B.

Students Apply For Scholarships

Teacher education scholarships for future elementary school teachers have been made available, John H. Cornehlsen, dean of men, announced this week.

The scholarships are for $300 a year. They will be granted to selected candidates chosen by a committee of competent judges.

Applicants must plan to train for a teaching credential and to teach in the public elementary schools of California. Students in the last semester of high school or graduated, or in any level of college, may apply.

For complete details, booklets are obtainable in Dean Cornehlsen's office, Room 106, College Hall.

Staters Lag in Card Sale; Spring Quota Short By 500

Only 1900 student body cards have been sold to date, 500 below the estimated quota set at the beginning of the semester, according to Hank Marscheck, student body treasurer. All club presidents have been asked to check club rolls to be sure that all members are student body card holders.

With the advent of student body elections in April, every student must have a student body card in order to vote. Students are also required to have student body cards in order to participate in any student body activity: intercollegiate and intramural sports, clubs and student offices.

Preparations are being made for a gala affair to celebrate the Golden Anniversary of the college, Marscheck said. These activities should prove to be the biggest functions of the semester, and all holders of student body cards will take an active part in the festivities, he added.

Dean's Committee Sets New Rules

Students disqualified on a cumulative grade-point basis will be ineligible for attendance for one semester beginning in June, it was announced by the Dean's Committee this week.

Such students may petition to the committee for readmission during this time. The sequence leading to disqualification will start with those who are now on probation, according to the scale formulated at the end of the Fall semester.

Beginning in March, students disqualified because of two consecutive probation semesters may petition for immediate consideration.

Forms may be obtained from the offices of either the dean of women or the dean of men.

Teacher Exams Slated March 5

Examinations for elementary teachers will be held at Stanford University March 5, Mrs. Alma Downey, placement secretary, stated this week.

The details of the examination and any questions will be answered by a representative of Los Angeles School Department in the Placement Office at 2 p.m. next Wednesday. Arrangements should be made with Mrs. Downey before that hour.

Stanford Debate Ends in Deadlock

Speakers' Bureau of State played host last week to a debating team from Stanford University.

The verbal battle ended in a deadlock.

The old idea of positive decisions has been discarded because of the difficulty in finding competent judges, Wendell Lathrop, past president, said. More important, he added, the primary point of the discussion sometimes becomes obscure in an effort by the team to win a decision.

The Speakers' Bureau, in conjunction with Speech 10-110, is open to all interested students who would like to take part in discussions, debates, or just plain "bull" sessions. It is not necessary to be enrolled in the speech course.

Future plans include the sponsoring of competitive debates among San Francisco high schools, and another debate with Stanford to be held there.

Eight Instructors Relinquish Posts

Eight part-time State faculty members have resigned their academic positions as of the end of last semester.

The list includes: Paul B. Gump, instructor in psychology; Robert Adams, professor in education; Beatrice A. Wright, assistant professor in psychology; Natalie C. Hall, assistant professor in social science.

Elene Parmely, professor in social science, and Frances Bona, instructor in English, have retired.

Groups Listed As Off-Campus

Board of Directors approved that the organizations listed be officially designated as Off-Campus Organizations: Associated Veteran Students, Sigma Gamma Sigma, Sigma Phi Sigma, Teachers' Association.

Foreign Policy Discussed

David Penn, commercial radio man, turned special correspondent for the Department of State, spoke on "The Voice of America" and "Our Foreign Policy" last night at Frederic Burk Auditorium.

Gala Block S Ball Rolls on Campus

Fun, fair and fancy free will be on the agenda tonight when the Block "S" Society's annual Balloon Ball gets under way in the Women's Gym, following the State-Southern Oregon basketball encounter at Kezar Pavilion.

Dancing will be to the tune of Bob Greenwood and his orchestra from 9 to 12 p.m.

"The dance should prove to be one of the entertaining features of the year," President Ken Shelley stated this week.

Tickets may be obtained from any Block "S" member or at the door for 75 cents with a student body card, or $1 without.

Dance committee chairmen are: Shelley, general chairman; Rudy Clemente, ticket sales; Roy Ciappini and Al Gabriel, ticket distribution; Tony Morrow, floor committee; Pete Dalton and Mike Keropian, refreshments; Jerry Friedman, publicity, and Ralph Azevedo, decorations.

Faculty members from the physical education department are sponsoring the affair. Kappa Theta will officiate at the hat check booth, Shelley revealed.

Big Sport Events Slated Tomorrow

A mammoth sports program is slated for tomorrow night.

First attraction is the State-Southern Oregon basketball encounter at Kezar Pavilion at 7:30

Following the game, or about 9 p.m., the Gator boxers exchange punches with the Santa Clara Broncos at the Women's Gym.

For complete details, see the Sports Page.

Brotherhood Week Starts Monday; Program Planned

Nation-wide Brotherhood Week will get under way on Monday with 27 campus organizations presenting educational programs, according to George Allen, member of the committee.

A general student body rally next Thursday at 1 p.m. will culminate the week's observance. Plans include the appearance of a well known speaker and music by the State band. Sparking the program will be a one-act play on discrimination.

The Speakers' Bureau will provide speakers for the weekly meetings of the leading college organizations to give students more specific data on race and religious backgrounds.

"The purpose," Allen added, "will be the promotion of democratic toleration of minority groups, striking at the heart of prejudice."

Music Alleyites Play in Symphony

Ten State students will perform with the San Francisco Recreation Symphony at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Everett Junior High School Auditorium. Conducted by Earl Bernard Murray, the program will include compositions by Wagner, Mozart, Telemann, Bizet, Brahms and others.

Staters in the group include Charlie Bear, Norman Hamlin, Luisa Hepper, Bill Jackson, Edwina Johnson, Nadine Johnson, Walter Laubscher, Frank Ono, Burt Viales and Alex Zuckermann.

Filipino Students Urged to Sign Up

The office of the Philippine Consul has sent a request to State for a list of all Filipino students attending the college. Florence Vance, registrar, asked the cooperation of these students in obtaining the needed material.

Information blanks furnished by the Consul may be secured in the registrar's office. All Filipino students, whether U. S. citizens or not, are asked to fill one out.

No Gambling Sign Posted in Hut 5

Signs were posted in Hut 5 during vacation reminding students of the State law prohibiting gambling on State property.

These posters were placed in the Lounge on the recommendation of the Board of Directors. The Board also decided that any person found gambling in the lounge will be reported to the Deans' Committee for suitable action.

Regulations Set For Display Signs

There have been many violations of the college communications rules in the last weeks before the end of the term, Toni Robinson, member-at-large, stated last week.

Franciscan Photos Still Being Taken

During the past week many seniors, anticipating graduation in June, have not been meeting the schedule for Franciscan pictures, Jean Heldoorn, Franciscan editor, announced yesterday.

It was decided to utilize identification photographs in the case of any one who failed to meet his appointment.

Photographer Art Melliar will continue to take pictures for the next few weeks. Seniors are being notified by mail and it is imperative they appear at the appointed time and place. Those who have not yet applied are urged to report to the Registrar's office.

Organization pictures were taken the past week, Al Martinez, club editor, said. He stated that many groups were delinquent and would not have their pictures in the yearbook unless they checked with the Franciscan staff immediately.

Dr. Sears Speaks At Initial Rally

Starting off the Spring term, the initial college assembly was held in the First Baptist Church last Wednesday.

Guest speaker, Dr. Lawrence Sears, professor of American philosophy and political theory at Mills College, spoke on the topic, "The Nature of Our Times."

Dr. P. F. Valentine, dean of general education, acted as chairman and extended greetings to the student body, faculty and to members of the Parent-Faculty club.

Earl Homan, president of Associated Students, welcomed new students to State. Other student body officers were also introduced at the gathering.

The musical portion of the program was under the direction of Dr. William E. Knuth and included selections by the college orchestra and choir.

Classes were dismissed at 1:50 to allow students to attend the assembly.

Publications Add Seven Members

Carolyn Trusty and Barbara Wendt were appointed make-up editors for the Spring Golden Gater at a meeting of the Board of Publications last Friday. Vern Goforth was approved as Assistant Business Manager of Publications.

Ted Boyce was added to the Franciscan staff as sales promotion manager. Other Franciscan appointments include Joanne Cinelli, Marilyn Layne and Evelyn Bjugstad as Franciscan editorial assistants.

EDITORIALS

IT'S BROTHERHOOD WEEK

Brotherhood Week, which is set aside annually to strike at racial and religious prejudices, begins Sunday throughout the country.

Already reams of copy have been written on the subject. Practically every college publication has come forth in bold face type urging everyone to "love thy fellowman, regardless of race, creed or color."

Most of these stories contain such flowery phrases as "in the truest sense of American ideals . . ." and "in the great tradition of our democratic principles . . ." Editorial writers are up to their ears in patriotic double-talk. It's beginning to sound like another political campaign.

The Golden Gater is fortunate in this respect. We do not have to get on the bandwagon to preach for equality this one particular week. It's here 52 weeks of the year.

Dr. Alfred G. Fisk, professor of philosophy on campus and leading exponent of racial and religious tolerance, had this to say recently about State College students:

"They are a very democratic group. And as far as racial tolerance is concerned, they compose the finest student body in the country."

Dr. Fisk should know. He has taught at State since 1935, and has visited numerous colleges throughout the country to see for himself how the various groups get along.

He proudly says that he ranks State students first in racial and religious tolerance among the campuses he has visited.

Let's keep living up to this heart-warming commendation.

EXCHANGES

By STUART CHURCHON

Things I never knew until now department:

Stanford University has its own broadcasting system, KSU. The system operates by means of "wired wireless," which means that only those radios directly connected to the broadcasting wires can receive the program. The programming follows regular commercial station techniques and gives Stanford's radiophytes a chance to perform.

All of which reminds us of U. C. The Associated Students of the University of California have applied for a license for a radio station of their own and have set aside a mere $100,000 for its construction.

BIG SPREAD

So you think State has trouble with all its campuses? Well, Fresno State has three campuses widely separated. It has two main campuses in Fresno (liberal arts and agricultural schools) and there is a summer campus at, get this, Huntington Lake, where over 300 students attend classes and have a grand time for themselves during the summer vacation.

Jeeves, dust off my old canoe and pup tent and let's go camping out at the new campus during the summer session. I hear the swimming is fine.

Just in case you intend to break a leg or start driving hotrods, you might hustle to San Diego State and see if they will accept you. Their accident insurance section of the student body paid out 75 claims last semester to student body card holders who had the foresight to insure themselves for the fee of $2.50.

EX-STATER DIRECTS

"Command Decision," the hard-hitting war play at U.S.F., is directed by ex-Stater Stu Bennett, who graduated in June '48.

The play promises to be a sell-out and Stu Bennett expects to connect with a television outfit here as a result of his directing experience. Betty Jane Bennett, his wife, is still attending State and has appeared in several plays here.

If you see a familiar face in the movies one of these days, it may be Dick Egan, former Stater. Dick is remembered here for his performance in "The Night of January Sixteenth" and other State productions.

He is currently screen-testing for MGM and Warner Brothers between sessions at Stanford Graduate School. Dr. J. Fenton McKenna was instrumental in securing Egan's screen tests.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR . . .

Establish a Book Service

To the Editor: This letter concerns the possibility of establishing a "book service." It would be patterned after the ones in existence in a number of colleges throughout the country, e.g., the University of California.

The books of students desirous of using this service are filed in a room and are bought and sold at 65 per cent, say, of the new price — a saving of 10 per cent and 15 per cent to buyer and seller, respectively.

A student who wishes to sell a book brings it in and receives a receipt for his book. If any student wants to purchase that book, it would be sold and the former owner notified of its sale. He would receive exactly what the purchaser paid for the book, less, say, a 5 cent service charge.

The only equipment needed for the success of such a system is a room of moderate size, well shelved, several volunteers and a thousand interested students.

The executive board would be the body to entertain such an idea. While it is true that the student body receives its main support from the book store, this source of finance would only be diminished by the fraction of students availing themselves of this service.

In most colleges less than a majority do so. If by some stroke of fate an inordinate number of students do so, then it is suggested that membership in the student body be prerequisite for the use of this service.

—Franklyn G. Cresse.

George Duz Everything

By AL MARTINEZ

In the Fall of 1946 a guy by the name of George C. Allen entered State College. Shortly after enrollment he began sitting in on the Board of Directors' meetings. A year later George became a permanent fixture there, being elected member-at-large in his low sophomore year, a job which he still retains.

As a member-elect of the Board, things began to boom for George. He became active in everything from Health Council committees to clothes drives. He brought National Student Association to the campus after attending the national convention in Madison, Wis.

HE'S THERE

When convention duty calls, the versatile Allen is always at hand. He was present at two WSSF conferences and represented State at three NSA confabs, one of which was the national convention.

The curly-headed lilliputian holds a 1.8 grade average, which once glittered in 2.0 glory. Upon graduation from State, George plans to go on to a Master's degree and teach college. His major is economics, his minor government.

Allen always finds time for social activities as well as others. As vice-president of Phi Eta Chi, men's service fraternity, he takes an active part in rallies, beer busts and the like. But there is a general consensus of opinion that the busy little man gives a slight edge to his on-campus extra-curricular activities.

GEORGE DOES IT

The let-George-do-it attitude is summed up nicely by Earl Homan, Associated Student Body president; an office, incidentally, which rumors say Allen might vie for come the Spring elections.

"George is one of the most cooperative and thorough members of the Board I've ever worked with. I know if I give him a job it will be done."

COLLEGES

Survey Reveals Teacher Scarcity

Endeavoring to determine the seriousness of the need for well trained college teachers, Dr. Earl E. Mosier of the Department of Public Instruction of Michigan recently completed a study of the college teacher supply and demand for the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools.

The study enlisted the participation of 114 non-public and 81 public colleges and universities in 20 states. These schools, offering courses in the sciences, literature, and arts, provided comparable basic information for the first semester of 1939-40 and 1947-48.

ENROLLMENT INCREASE

It was found that within the period thus studied the enrollments of the 195 colleges and universities increased 65 per cent, while the number of faculty members holding ranks of instructor through professor within the same institutions increased only 42 per cent.

Where formerly the mean teacher-student ratio was one teacher for every 16 students, there are now 19 students to every teacher.

Eighty-six institutions reported that teaching staffs would be reduced if enrollments were curtailed 20 per cent. Twenty-nine colleges were uncertain, and 54 institutions reported they would retain the same number of faculty members. If enrollment were cut 10 per cent, only nine institutions indicated that a reduction of staff personnel would follow, nine were uncertain, and 149 said there would be no change.

GOOD PROSPECTS

What are the prospects for an increasing supply of adequately qualified college teachers? Fifteen institutions in the area studied by Dr. Mosier report a total of 1,603 students working beyond the level of the Master's degree.

Moreover reports of 23 different administrators revealed that they believed relatively few of the large number of present teaching fellows, assistants, or lecturers would select teaching as a permanent career.

Will Editor Be Married?

By RAOUL SOSA Jr.

It all started something like three semesters ago, and if tradition doesn't change its course, Ed Levitt, new editor of the Golden Gater, is in for a serenade of the church bells.

Back in the Fall of '47 there was a fellow named Henry Weiss at State, and he was editor of the Golden Gater. While serving in that capacity Henry met a girl—as men are wont to do—and Henry fell in love with her.

To make a love story short, Henry married her.

On the heels of '47 followed '48, and a new editor was appointed, Chuck Elkind. Chuck had a girl friend, and he was very fond of her.

Yeah . . . the guy got married!

Then along came a chap named Joe Heath, and Joe became co-editor of the Golden Gater. While in office Mr. Heath met a young lady, and the lady became fond of Joe, and Joe became fond of the young lady.

And so . . . they got married!

Now comes a new semester, and with it a new editor—Ed Levitt—a charming young man without a care. Ed hasn't but one girl—he has many. So, from where we type, it looks like a case of Ed making up his mind as to which girl will middle-aisle it with him.

So listen, Miss Hush, if you're single, are partial to journalists, and would like to settle down and raise a batch of little journalists, won't you propose to the guy?

You may write in your proposals in care of the Golden Gater office. Limit your emotions to a thousand words.

SPORTS BEAT

By GORDON RADDUE

"What's happened to State's basketball team? How could it possibly blow eight consecutive Far Western Conference games after capturing its first four with ridiculous ease?"

These are questions that are baffling those persons who are familiar with nothing but the outcome of State's last several starts. Actually, the reasons for the Gators' collapse are crystal clear. Reason number one, of course, is the loss of Johnny Burton. When "Jumping John" was in form, the Purple and Gold cagers were able to knock over the power laden San Jose quintet, 62-56, right after the Spartans had annihilated Hank Luisetti's Stewart Chevrolets by a 57-33 count. At this phase of the season, State was in a class by itself among Far Western Conference basketball teams.

Soon afterward, however, an almost inconceivable string of misfortune started to eat away State's chances for what might have been one of its most successful seasons on the hardwoods. After Burton was forced out of action with his stomach ailment ,the Gators had to make the hazardous trip north to face Humboldt State and Southern Oregon without the services of such key men as Angelo Maestri and Jimmy Wong. Disorganization was the result, a condition that has been evident ever since. Basketball, it must be realized, is a sport in which team unity is an essential factor for a successful season.

As was pointed out in this space last week, State has not had a losing season in basketball since 1935, a phenomenal record indeed. In view of this fact, State followers should not be depressed over the turn of fate that has made this season a losing one. Instead of looking upon the team's record with disdain, they should get out to Kezar and show that they want a winner by giving Coach Farmer's boys the backing they have lacked all season.

Mentor Eyes Big Season

By GEORGE KAMIAN

Looking forward to what should be one of San Francisco State's most prosperous years in track and field, Head Coach Ray Kaufman has been sending his charges through their respective paces at both the Commerce High and Lake Merced ovals.

FRESHMEN HELP

To be added to this main nucleus will be a large incoming group of freshmen, junior college transfers and jayvee men, who will blend their talents to give State what should be one of her better balanced armadas.

Gone from the fold are such top competitors as Hank Watty, Don Oakes, Jack Byrnes, Don Meagher and the immortal Fox... The absence of these boys will of course hurt, but Coach Kaufman has high hopes for this year's squad to cop the Far Western Conference flag, having been nosed out last season by the Purple and Gold's arch rivals, Cal Aggies.

WEATHER IMPORTANT

With good weather permitting, the actual competition will take place on or about March 5, when the thinclads will toe the mark for the interclass meet.

The brightest prospect up from the jayvees is Bill "Banjo Eyes" Hynes, who will be attempting to fill the shoes of Hal Fox. Another potential star should be John DeVries, a lad capable of doing 9.8 in the century.

A complete rundown of track happenings and coming events will appear in the next Golden Gater, since many boys are still out for boxing, baseball and wrestling.

Volleyball Scoop!

State has received an invitation to field a team in the Northern California Intercollegiate Volleyball Championships, to be held March 26 at Stockton, it was announced Wednesday by Bill Harkness.

Harkness wants all students interested in joining the team to see him immediately, in order that practice may get under way as soon as possible.

Woolfson Offered Pacific Net Tour

Joy and gloom descended on State-land tennis circles this past week when:

1. (JOY) It was announced by the Northern California Tennis Association that Gator net captain Joe Woolfson had been selected to fly to the Philippine Davis Cup team previous to their first interzone match. On his way back home, Joe is to stop over and compete in the Hawaiian Intercollegiates.

2. (GLOOM) Coach Dan Farmer discovered that he was minus last year's Far Western doubles champions because of ailing Ralph Chippendale's withdrawal from school after the six-weeks period of "grace" allowed by FWC rules. With the graduation of Gene Phillips, the other half of the champion doubles combo, Chippendale had been counted on for the heavy work to capture the doubles trophy for the third successive year.

Sign-ups for the varsity include veterans Bill Jackson, Don Forbes, Warren Logan and jayvee graduates Jack Trippi, Bud Wendt, Joe Bottino and others.

Practice is on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday between 12 and 2 on the school courts. Sign-ups are still being accepted in both divisions and prospective netsters can check with either Coach Farmer or Phillips.

BATTER UP!

Gator Nine Faces Rams

Baseball season gets under way in the Bay Area next Friday afternoon at the Lake Merced campus when the San Francisco State nine takes the field against the San Francisco City College Rams.

The tilt will mark a warmup for the California-State fracas the following Wednesday at Berkeley.

Coach Hal Harden is blessed with five returning flingers from last year's runner-up Far Western Conference aggregation.

Irv Edstrom, John Pasanen, Cub Rubio, Earl Clayton and Ronald Kamb will share the chucking chore this Spring, with either Edstrom or Rubio getting the starting call next Friday.

Mike DeGregorio, chunky catcher, will provide the target for Harden's array of hurlers.

The infield shapes up with Ed Kenna, first base; Herb Bill, second base; Mike Keropian, short stop; and Tom Gaffney, third base.

Patrolling the outer gardens will be Jim Johnson in left, Ray Enjaian in center and Cas Cassilagio in right.

Al Gabriel once again will handle the managing job.

Li'l Gator Meshers Raided By Varsity

A six-game winning streak came to an abrupt end at Davis February 11, when Cal Aggie reserves upset the high-flying Kaufmanites, 44-43, on Tom Martin's free throw with seven seconds to play. Dick Milkovich led the Baby Gators with 15 points, followed by Bob Childs, who made 11.

At their peak strength of the season, the jayvees trimmed Golden Gate College February 4, 63-49, with Chuck Crawford hitting 14.

On the following night, the jayvees downed Galileo, 55-45, with present varsity performers, Crawford, Bob Keropian and Walt Pudlowski leading the way with 20, 15 and nine points, respectively.

On February 12, the City College Lambs measured the weakened Gators, 55-47, with Roger Fanfelle scoring 14 and Dick Silva 10, leading the local cause.

St. Mary's Frosh handed the jayvees their second worst defeat of the season Monday night, 63-42. Milkovich paced State with 12, followed by Earl Homan with 10.

WAA Casabagals Take to Maples

Women's Athletic Association basketball squads will open their interschool schedule for this term with Mills College tomorrow in the Women's Gym.

Intramural casaba plans are now under way with WAA participants naming student representatives and coaches from each class. Elected to serve as representatives were Olie Anson, freshman; Lillian Logan, sophomore; Barbara Lutz, junior, and Alyce Brehl, senior. Claire Anderson, Audrey Reid, Jeanne Contel and Helen Hansen will coach the groups.

To discuss future play days, policies and disciplinary rules, class representatives will meet regularly each week with basketball manager Maxine Peck, Miss Dorothy Brett and Mrs. Helen Ogilvie, physical education instructors.

Double Sports Bill Heads Local Weekend Calendar

Ringmen Play Host To Bronco Belters In Gym Tomorrow

By ED LEVITT

Second-half of a double-barrel sports program switches to the Women's Gym tomorrow night with State ringsters battling the Santa Clara mittmen.

Fist-ivities begin at 9, following the Gator-Southern Oregon basketball tilt at Kezar.

Seven bouts are in the offing and the card should furnish plenty of action for the price—free to student body card holders and 60 cents sans card.

BEAT NEVADA

Gator beak busters have punched out a 4-3 win over the University of Nevada; drew with Chico, and lost matches to San Jose, Cal Poly, Stanford and City College of San Francisco.

Santa Clara also was scalped by the Indians from Palo Alto in the Broncos' lone engagement of the season.

The number one attraction of the evening looms in the 145 pound class, with State's Ted Abbott boxing shifty Bill Sullivan.

Abbott's last outing was a winning one over Stanford's Alan Anderson. He also has racked up two other victories as against one defeat.

GOOD CLUB FIGHTER

Sullivan's forte appears to be in his willingness to mix-it up. The Bronco is a rough, tough customer who enjoys whaling away with both hands. The fight should please the galleryites.

Two heavyweight bouts are scheduled. State's Gene Fackler, who hits hard and fast, is matched with Jim Buckley, while Gator Clarence Sears goes against Pat Walsh.

Coach Ward Carr has lined up an array of top flight officials for tonight's bouts. Ray Lunny, former California lightweight contender and currently coaching Stanford's pugilists, will act as referee. Toby Irwin and Joe Ray will be the judges.

Tonight's Card

125—(S)Sal Solina vs. Don Schultz;

135—(S)Nelson Yee vs. Ben Cassiverio;

145—(S)Ted Abbott vs. Bill Sullivan;

155—(S)Ralph Lewis vs. Tom McInerny;

165—(S)Jim Hughes vs. Bob Feuerbach;

Heavyweights—(S)Gene Fackler vs. Jim Buckley, (S)Clarence Sears vs. Pat Walsh.

Golfers Start Preparation In Championship Defense

Sign-ups have already started for membership on State's defending Far Western Conference champion golf team. Coach Ward Carr is looking forward to a good year on the links for State this season, since all the stars from last season have returned to the fold.

'New' Tide Quintet Opens Series With Ashlanders Tonight

Buried in the throes of a nine game losing streak, Coach Dan Farmer's Gator hoopsters will be fighting to get back in the win column tonight and tomorrow night at Kezar Pavilion, when they host the Red Raiders from Southern Oregon College in a Far Western Conference series.

The invaders from Ashland already hold two decisions over the Gators this season, but Farmer has revitalized his quintet since then with jayvee talent which may blossom tonight.

EX-JAYVEES STAR

Ex-Baby Gators Chuck Crawford, forward, and Walt "Puddles" Pudlowski, guard, have shown well in recent games against Cal Aggies and St. Mary's, and will probably start tonight.

The Oregonians are paced by grid star, Chuck Jandreau, who operates at forward, and by all-conference center, Cal Bonney.

"Dead-eye Dick" Jaensch will be sparking the Golden Tide from his forward slot, along with Center Angelo Maestri. Crawford or Lou Pappas will fill the other forward assignment, with Gus Skoufus and Pudlowski rounding out the starting five at guards.

GAELS SAP TIDE

The "Galloping Gaels" from St. Mary's proved too tough an assignment for the green Gators last Monday, and romped to an easy 67-52 win.

State made it close most of the first half, with Crawford, Maestri and Pudlowski doing great rebound work, but the Moragans, led by Frank "Apples" Kudelka, surged late in the period to gain a 37-24 half-time lead.

The Tide staged a brief rally at the outset of the second stanza, sparked by Jimmy Wong and Jaensch. With the half but five minutes old, however, Wong turned his ankle and was forced to leave the floor.

JAENSCH FINDS HOOP

After that, the Gaels won as they pleased, despite a great performance by Jaensch, who riddled the hemp for 21 points to tie Kudelka for high point honors.

The little Gator forward, whose 13.2 average per game is second in Far Western Conference scoring, continually pierced the Gael defense to score difficult lay-ups or draw free throws.

Forced to floor a reshuffled lineup against Cal Aggies last weekend at Davis, State was toppled by the fast-breaking Mustangs by 62-56 and 49-40 scores.

Maestri paced the attack in both encounters, hitting for 20 in the Friday tussle and 13 in Saturday night's finale.

Workouts Please Swimming Coach

Results of the initial swimming practices have given Coach Harvey Williams reasons for an optimistic outlook on the coming season, which opens March 8 against Santa Clara.

In addition to the return of such outstanding veterans from last year's team as Jim Vick, Kay Wade, Ken Mavor and Ed James, Coach Williams has been greeted by a promising array of newcomers.

The aforementioned veterans all scored points in last year's Far Western Conference meet, and have their eyes focused on this season's competition with intent to better their performances.

Dual meets have been scheduled with Santa Clara, College of the Pacific, St. Mary's, Santa Clara and Cal Aggies, while plans for additional ones are also being drawn.

The annual Far Western Conference meet will be held May 22 in San Francisco.

Mural Speedball Starts Next Week

Speedball, the sport which attracted so many teams as well as fans last year, begins next Monday. Any clubs, fraternities, sororities or independent groups are welcome to enter a team in the intramural schedule for this year.

Points for placing in the speedball competition will be given toward the All Sports Championship trophy. Team entry blanks may be obtained from Bill Harkness, director of intramurals.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA — National honorary drama fraternity, at the last meeting of the Fall semester, initiated nine pledges. They were: Patricia Frank, Virginia Cox, Annie Platt, Eleanor Webster, Joe Flynn, Tom Klunis, Warren Massey, Tim Haggerty, and Jack Kalman. Dr. J. Fenton McKenna, professor of speech and drama, was given an honorary membership as a token of appreciation for his guidance and assistance during the past two years.

Plans for the awarding of scholarships and dramatic awards are under way, according to president Tom Murphy. A very active semester is anticipated, Murphy stated.

SIGMA ALPHA ETA — Service fraternity, held its first meeting of the semester at the home of Dick Gray, secretary of the organization. Plans for the coming semester were discussed followed by an informal discussion of curriculum problems. Next meeting will be held this Sunday at the home of Earl Anderson. Spring officers are: Hal Graubart, president; Walt Travis, vice-president; Dick Gray, secretary, and Hank Marscheck, treasurer.

PHI EPSILON MU—Physical Education fraternity, will hold its first meeting of the semester today. Plans for the club's participation in the Cahper conference, which is slated to be held in San Francisco during April, will be discussed.

BLOCK S—Lettermen held their first meeting of the semester last Tuesday, at which time final plans for the Balloon Ball, set for tonight in the Women's Gym, were formulated.

DELTA PHI GAMMA — Men's service fraternity, held an informal meeting in the Activities Room recently. Plans were formulated for a forthcoming dance, scheduled for Friday, March 4.

N. S. A.—National Student Association committee on campus, met for the first time this semester on Monday in the Activities Room. New members were welcomed.

Further plans for a welcome social event and rally were discussed, as well as final arrangements for the bulletin board, which is due to make its debut on campus soon. Mardi Schwarz, activities chairman of the group, announced that the delay in the bulletin board may be attributed to lack of materials. Despite this fact, Miss Schwarz stated, plans are materializing rapidly.

Need Money Fast? Placement Free For the Asking!

Students interested in part-time employment should register with the placement office, Room 114, College Hall.

Placement service is free, but does not guarantee jobs, Miss Alma Downey, placement secretary, stated. She added, "good success has been achieved in placing some students."

Students, once registered with the Placement Office, should check the bulletin board outside Room 114 daily. Would-be employees also should see employment P. O. boxes which are assigned according to surname.

Miss Downey further stated that she is contemplating setting up a file for students' private businesses. Students who do jobs on the side, such as poster drawing, should consult her.

The placement office is open 9-5 p.m. daily.

Marriage Problems? Adjustment Offered

State College is the first school in this area to offer a course in the study of marriage problems.

This course was introduced 12 years ago under the title of the "Fundamentals of Human Relationships."

In 1940, when Dr. C. L. Lastrucci, assistant professor of sociology, came to State, he changed the title of the course to "Marriage Problems." Dr. Lastrucci has been teaching this subject for the past nine years.

It is not guaranteed that taking the course and passing it assures one of having a happy marriage, Dr. Lastrucci said, but it is very nformative and certainly would be extremely valuable to anyone contemplating marriage. In fact, he added, there are many married students enrolled in the course.

UNESCO Seeking Campus Recognition

Great need on campus for a student-faculty organization on United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organizations, is emphasized by Dr. Theodore E. Treutlein, faculty representative for UNESCO and professor of history at State. He appeals to the students' initiative and spirit of leadership in this regard.

"There must exist a convenient channel through which UNESCO information can reach the greatest number of students and be transmitted by them into activity programs," he further expressed.

COUNCIL PROPOSED

Dr. Treutlein proposes the formation of a "council" through which students could make known their requests for the type of UNESCO activity in which they would like to engage. This would co-ordinate campus groups and individuals in the promotion of their educational, scientific and cultural activities.

INCREASE AUDIENCES

The council could also attempt to increase the size of audiences during talks on vital subjects given by faculty members and leaders from other institutions. It could make concentrated efforts to gather the biggest possible audience during such occasions. This would encourage qualified persons to let State students share with them their accumulated knowledge, Dr. Treutlein said.

Students and faculty members interested in taking an active and energetic part in any one of a wide range of UNESCO and its related activities should inform Dr. T. E. Treutlein, Department of History, P. O. Box 49.

NEW FACES

Seven Teachers Added to Roster

Latest count shows seven full or part-time teachers added to the faculty roster.

Two instructors have been added to the psychology staff. They are: Donovan Swanson, instructor in psychology, who will be working in the General Education field, and Mrs. Anne Bradfield, part-time instructor in psychology.

In the field of education two faculty members have been added: Herbert J. Klausmeir, instructor in secondary education, and Mrs. Edith Merritt, assistant professor of education.

Harold N. Graham has been appointed part-time instructor in chemistry to replace Arthur Hall.

Alfred Castaneda has been appointed an assistant in the Language Arts Division.

John V. Galgiani has been added to the Health Center.

File With Registrar For June Degree

All students who expect degrees or credentials in June, 1949, should file for them immediately in the registrar's office, Miss Florence Vance, registrar, said this week.

It is necessary that sufficient time be allowed for checking these students' records and programs. This serves to verify that they have completed the individual requirements.

Local Success: Langley Scripts Sold to Network

With six years of professional radio experience already to his credit, Kenneth Langley, 20-year-old sophomore, recently sold three scripts to the program "Grand Central Station," which is aired nationally over CBS.

"Comic Strip Casanova," one of his works, was presented January 29 with stage and screen star Barry Nelson and featured radio actress Kathleen Cordell in the starring roles.

Langley has also appeared on such shows as Quiz Kids, March of Time, Are These Our Children? Lux Radio Theater, Guiding Light, Youth Looks to the Future, California Stepping Stones, Hawthorn House and Alias John Freedom.

Bay Area listeners may remember him for his work on these shows: Ken LanLgley's Side of the News, Luncheon With Polly and Ken, Signature Spin Time and others.

New Financial Set-up For Music Federation

Because projects formerly supported by the Music Federation will be financed by the Creative Arts Production Board, the organization, which boasts nearly 500 members, no longer will be subsidized by the Associated Students, Sid Gordon, Fed president, announced last week.

Virtually all other income is derived from Fed membership cards, Gordon said. Therefore, it is necessary to increase the price of the cards from 25 cents to 50 cents per semester.

Fed cards were on sale at a special booth during registration. They may now be obtained in the Fed office, next to the Music Library in Annex B.

As in the past, the Music Federation will continue to act as a general information and service bureau for freshmen and other students who desire such aid, Gordon stated. The organization is open not only to music majors and minors, but to any persons interested in music, he added.

Officers for the Spring semester include Gordon, president; Bob Greenwood, vice-president; Stan Shaff, treasurer; Betty Thatcher, secretary; Keith Bee, member-at-large. Representatives from the various musical activities will be chosen when these groups meet during the first week of the semester.

AUDIO-VISUAL

Projection Rooms Latest Addition

An innovation in audio-visual facilities is the addition of two small projection rooms for faculty or student previews in Room 203, Dr. Helen Clifford Gunter, director of audio-visual education, stated this week.

From time to time, Dr. Gunter added, new films and other educational materials are sent to the college by producers and distributers for purposes of reviews. Preview prints of the following sound motion pictures will be on campus until next Friday: "Magnets," "Plastics," "How Animals Move," "Flow of Electricity," "The Passenger Train" and others.

The audio-visual workshop is located in Frederic Burk, Room 203. In the workshop, students from the audio-visual classes, Education 152, are trained in the operation of audio-visual equipment. Dr. Gunter stated that students and faculty members are always welcome to the workshops.

Students Compete For Scholarships

State students are eligible to petition for the Harvard Business School Far Western Regional Scholarship.

Application forms and additional information may be secured from the committee on scholarships, Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

Applications must be returned not later than April.
